Duty of Disclosure

Under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (the Act), the Insured has a Duty of Disclosure. The Insured is required before they enter into, renew, vary, extend or reinstate your Policy, to tell the Company everything the Insured knows or that a reasonable person in the circumstances could be expected to know, is a matter that is relevant to the Company's decision whether to insure the Insured, and anyone else to be insured under the Policy, and if so, on what terms.

You do not have to tell the Company about any matter

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken
- that is of common knowledge
- that the Company knows or should know in the ordinary course of its business as an Insurer, or
- which the Company indicates it does not want to know.

Non Disclosure

If you do not tell the Company

If the Insured does not comply with its Duty of Disclosure the Company may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel this Policy. If the non-disclosure is fraudulent the Company may treat this Policy as having been void from its inception.

Average/underinsurance

The additional insured items for Existing Structures and for items of plant, equipment, tools, cranes, hoists and mobile construction machinery are subject to average/underinsurance. The Insured must insure Existing Structures for the full replacement value and items of plant, equipment, tools, cranes, hoists and mobile construction machinery for the current market value and if the Insured does not the Company will only pay the proportion of the claim that the sum insured bears to that market value.
